Thanks, Brad. Below is a brief summary of the program that may provide useful context. It is a government-wide initiative and may align with what Reed Cordish and Chris Liddell are working on. I am happy to discuss further with you tonight or tomorrow. My cell is (b) (6) Thanks.

Press Release on Data Center Marketplace

The Data Center Optimization Initiative (DCOI) was established by OMB Directive M-16-19. It fulfills requirements set forth in the Federal Information Technology Acquisition Reform Act of 2014 (FITARA). The purpose of that law was to improve the acquisition and management of federal information technology assets.

Among other things, DCOI requires the formation of a "data center marketplace" to be run by Inter-Agency Shared Service Providers (ISSPs). A "data center" is a large group of networked computer servers typically used for the remote storage, processing, or distribution of large amounts of electronic data. All agencies use data centers to store their electronic data. The "data center marketplace" would provide a shared service to federal agencies wishing to migrate or close their current data centers. The press release at issue would designate the Department of Agriculture's National Information Technology Center as the first ISSP for the new data center marketplace.

I looked over the press release and it doesn't mention that she is a federal employee at all but definitely wanted you to be aware of this and not surprised by it.

Hoyer Announces Guest for President Trump's Joint Address to Congress

WASHINGTON, DC – Congressman Steny H. Hoyer (MD-05) announced today that Miss Ola Ojewumi, a resident of the Fifth District, will be his guest at President Trump’s Joint Address to Congress tomorrow evening.

“I am pleased to welcome Miss Ojewumi as my guest for tomorrow evening’s joint address to Congress,” said Congressman Hoyer. “Ola, like thousands of Marylanders, has been personally impacted by the Affordable Care Act. As a child, she received a heart and kidney transplant. Years later when she developed cancer, had it not been for the ACA, Ola would have been uninsurable. But thanks to the patient protections of the ACA, Ola was able to stay on her parents’ insurance coverage until the age of 26, at which point she was able to get covered through her employer. Marylanders like Ola are the very reason why I am working to protect the Affordable Care Act and oppose efforts to repeal the law. I hope that Ola’s story and those of other constituents attending the address will remind Republicans of the harmful impact that repeal would have on Americans across the country.”

Ola Ojewumi is a community organizer and women’s health advocate. She has worked to expand access to Medicaid in Maryland, and advocates for people with disabilities. Ola was born and raised in Prince George’s County, Maryland; she currently lives in Beltsville, Maryland.
